1. Introduction

This Publication Scheme sets out what information the Board makes publicly available, how it can be accessed, how we deal with requests for information and whether or not it is free of charge.

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 (“the Act”), as amended by the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012, the Environment Information Regulations 2005 and the Infrastructure for Spatial Information in the European Community Regulations (INSPIRE), gives a general right of access to and re-use of recorded information held by public authorities and sets out exemptions from those right. It places a number of obligations on public authorities; the Board is deemed to be a non-departmental public body for the purposes of the Act.

Further information about the Act can be obtained from the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) (<http://www.ico.gov.uk>).

Schedule of Charges

Type of charge	Description	Cost	Comments
Disbursement cost	Paper copies A4 A3 Paper Plans (up to A0)	10p per side 20p per side £5 per side	Costs of printing, paper & toner
	Postage	2 nd class postage	Actual cost of Royal Mail 2 nd class delivery
	Packaging	£1	Per parcel/letter irrespective of size/weight
Time	Where the time required to respond to a request exceeds 18 hours	£25 per hour	Freedom of Information and Data Protection Regulations 2004 (SI 2004/3244)

Section 12 of the Freedom of Information Act states that a body is not obliged to comply with a request for information if it estimates that the cost of complying with a request exceeds the 'appropriate limit', which for public authorities is set at £450, at a standard rate of £25 per hour. Therefore, if it is estimated that it will take the Board more than 18 hours to determine if the information requested is held, locate and retrieve the information, and extract the releasable information from any exempt information, the request will be refused.

If a request exceeds the £450 limit, the requester will be informed of this in writing, with advice offered on how to revise and resubmit the request where possible. Where the cost of supplying the information can be processed within the £450 limit, the information will not be charged for. The cost of sending the information may be charged, as specified above.

6. Aggregated requests

The Fees Regulations state that in some cases the costs of answering more than one request for information can be 'aggregated', or added together, to estimate whether the £450 limit is exceeded.

Requests can be aggregated when two or more requests have been made to the Board relating to the same or similar information within the space of 60 consecutive working days.

The requests will also either be from the same person or from different people who appear to be working together in a campaign.

7. Repetitious or vexatious requests

The Board may refuse repetitious or vexatious requests as defined by the Freedom of Information Act (Section 14).

8. Exempt Information

In adopting this Scheme, the Board has endeavoured to be as open as possible but there are instances where, for legitimate reasons, it may not make certain information available. Where this is the case the reasons behind the decision to withhold the information will be clearly stated and will be based on the general exemptions contained in the Data Protection Act, the Environmental Information Regulations, or where it may be of a confidential or commercially sensitive nature.

9. Copyright

The copyright of all the information published is reserved by the Board.
